But I will not go to the Great House..Gelluk's white face had gone whiter; his jaw trembled a little. He stood up, suddenly, as he..Medra had been thinking, once again, and still unavailingly, how he could leave Havnor at once and..There is no doubt that so great a mage as Morred was a husband and father..another shining objects, were inflating something -- but I did not even look in their direction. In..their listening silence, and rested there for days, and came back to him changed..At the stream Serrenen, where it runs within the north wall of the city, the midwife gave Otter..The tall man in his tall hat suddenly sat down on the dirt beside Otter, quite close to him. His breath smelled earthy. His light eyes gazed directly into Otter's eyes. "Would you like to know? You can know anything you like. I need have no secrets from you. Nor you from me," and he laughed, not threateningly, but with pleasure. He gazed at Otter again, his large, white face smooth and thoughtful. "Powers you have, yes, all kinds of little traits and tricks. A clever lad. But not too clever; that's good. Not too clever to learn, like some... I'll teach you, if you like. Do you like learning? Do you like knowledge? Would you like to know the name we call the King when he's all alone in his brightness in his courts of stone? His name is Turre. Do you know that name? It's a word in the language of the Allking. His own name in his own language. In our base tongue we would say Semen." He smiled again and patted Otter's hand. "For he is the seed and fructifier. The seed and source of might and right. You'll see. You'll see. Come along! Come along! Let's go see the King flying among his subjects, gathering himself from them!" And he stood up, supple and sudden, taking Otter's hand in his and pulling him to his feet with startling strength. He was laughing with excitement..there. A real is artificial, but one can't tell the difference. Unless, I suppose, one got in there..me so that she could learn how to do it! Just because I learned how to play music from you, did I..BUT OF COURSE he went down to Havnor South Port, in one of his father's carts driven by one of his father's carters, along with Master Hemlock. As a rule, people do what wizards advise them to do. And it is no small honor to be invited by a wizard to be his student or apprentice. Hemlock, who had won his staff on Roke, was used to having boys come to him begging to be tested and, if they had the gift for it, taught. He was a little curious about this boy whose cheerful good manners hid some reluctance or self-doubt. It was the father's idea, not the boy's, that he was gifted. That was unusual, though perhaps not so unusual among the wealthy as among common folk. At any rate he came with a very good prenticing fee paid beforehand in gold and ivory. If he had the makings of a wizard Hemlock would train him, and if he had, as Hemlock suspected, a mere childish flair, then he'd be sent home with what remained of his fee. Hemlock was an honest, upright, humorless, scholarly wizard with little interest in feelings or ideas. His gift was for names. "The art begins and ends in naming," he said, which indeed is true, although there may be a good deal between the beginning and the end..He recognized Hound, though he could not sit up and could barely speak. The old man put his own..".And you?" she asked..So he cherished his free hours as if they were actual meetings with her. He had always loved her, but had not understood that he loved her beyond anyone and anything. When he was with her, even when he was down on the docks thinking of her, he was alive. He never felt entirely alive in Master Hemlock's house and presence. He felt a little dead. Not dead, but a little dead..".And it was useful knowledge," Tern said. "How can people be anything but ignorant when knowledge..of. The Child Taker, they called him, a dreaded sorcerer who carried children to his island in the.galley, which was rowed by forty slaves..notion of actually getting her into the School on Roke disguised as a man, there was little chance..work and talk..".I should go," she said. "I can walk in the Grove, but not live there. It isn't my -
